Items of Interest Gleaned from Our Exchanges

Pender Republic: Attorney R. E. Evans, of Dakota City, was in Pender Tuesday on legal business.

Ponca Journal: O. I. Newton spent a few hours Tuesday afternoon with several boys of the Lutheran Sunday school at Crystal lake.

Fonda, Ia., Times: Mrs. Burt Kroesen and three children left this morning for Waterloo, where they will spend a week or more with Mrs. Kroesen's folks.

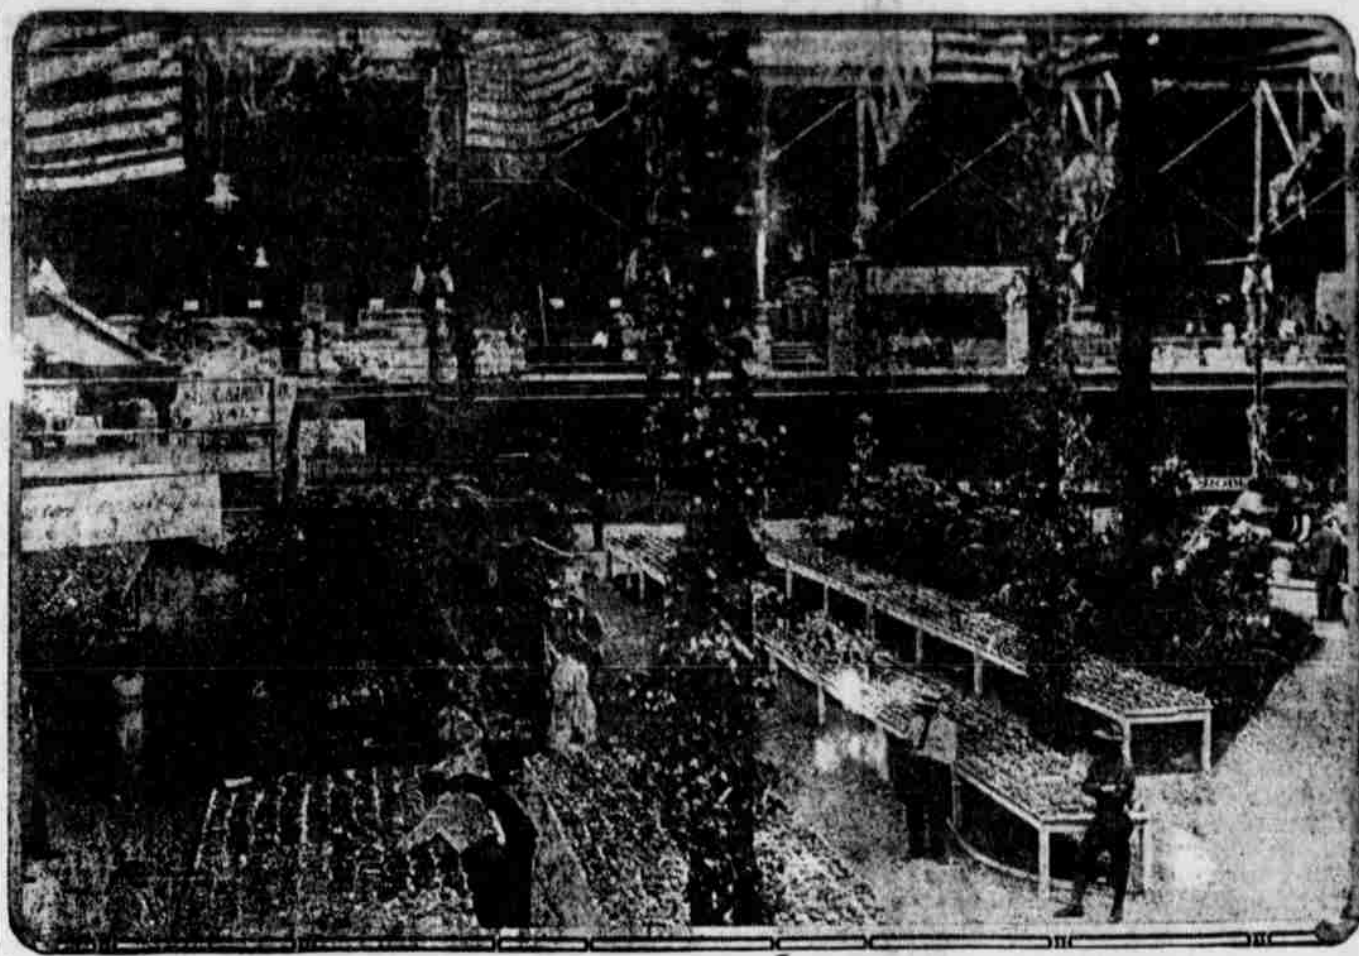

Sioux City Journal, 19: Thomas J. Hamitt, of Jackson, Neb., was in Sioux City yesterday. A motor car belonging to Ed M. Bell, at the Hotel Jackson, which was stolen Sunday night, was found yesterday by Chief of Police A. L. Mathwig, of South Sioux City, standing in Ninth street, South Sioux City, apparently the thief deserted the car when the gasoline supply was exhausted, Mr. Mathwig said.

Lyons Sun: Dakota City, just large enough for two newspapers, is burdened with two the we do not see how either exists judging from the amount of ads they have. The Sun carries more ads some weeks on two pages than these two papers carry combined. Both of them have skads of reading matter, in this respect being far ahead of the average paper. The Herald, by Mr. Ream, is the neater and evidently the best patronized of the two sheets.

Ponca Advocate: Frank Bauer and Will McCabe motored to Crystal lake Sunday evening. Nick and Matt Bourens, Oscar Peterson and Bob Kaufmann motored to Crystal lake Sunday evening. The Camp Fire Girls had a picnic at Crystal lake Monday. They were chaperoned by Miss Hazel Williams. The True Blue class of girls of the Lutheran church are spending the day (Thursday) at Crystal lake. O. I. Newton started for Crystal lake Monday evening with a carload of boys but had to turn back at Willis on account of the rain.

Lyons Mirror: Mr. and Mrs. August Mussack and Mr. and Mrs. Al Heath and Thelma Zulauf, of Jackson, Nebr., were in Omaha last week Thursday and stopped over in Blair on their way home Saturday and had a chat with the Joe Peterson family. Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGraw went to Emerson Monday, where Mr. McGraw has a position in a garage. Mrs. McGraw was formerly Miss Eva Brown and her mother's maiden name was Miss Ella Keel, daughter of Enos Keel, a former treasurer of Dakota county. So they are getting back to a time honored land.

Nebraska's Famed Agricultural and Horticultural Display

Not for a good many years have conditions so far shaped themselves for a record breaking exhibit in the agriculture and horticulture building than for the week of September 3-7. This year, above all years, we should take pride in demonstrating to the world that Nebraska can do her "BIT" in the production of her soil products. The exhibit in this building will more than make you proud to call Nebraska "Your State."

were at South Sioux City and "Crystal lake Sunday. C. L. Lase and family and J. O. Beckner and family spent Sunday at Crystal lake. Miss Deana Crowell was an over Sunday visitor at Dakota City, returning home Tuesday. Dr. E. E. Waite and family and his brother, Fred Waite and family, of Bancroft, were at Crystal lake Sunday. Mrs. Roy Waterman, of Worthing, S. D., came Tuesday for a visit with home folks, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lamson. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stillman, of Decatur, came over Saturday to visit with the Plummer family. Sunday they accompanied the Plummers and Frank Diddock and wife to Crystal lake for an outing.

Allen News: Genevieve Brady, of Jackson, was visiting Miss Sara Herrick Friday. Mrs. Orville Beith and children, of Jackson, are visiting relatives in this community. Mrs. Green, of Hoskins, Neb., returned to Homer last Friday, after a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Hecker, and family. The Camp Fire Girls returned Saturday evening from Crystal lake, where they had been since Thursday on an outing. They report a very enjoyable time. Mrs. Wm. Kilburn was down there with them. Friends of C. B. Crego received word last week that he had resigned from the ranks of bachelorhood and that he is now enjoying life as a married man. He was married to Miss Mable Ream, of Dakota City, the first of this month, at Juliet, Wyo. Mr.

Crego is very well known in the vicinity of Allen, having been employed for three years as an assistant in Earl Meek's barber shop. The past winter he worked in Ben Mitchell's shop and only left Allen the first of March in order to take up a homestead on which he had filed near Juliet, Wyo. He was a jolly good fellow of likeable characteristics that won him friendship among all the young men of the town. He was a baseball fan of the "first water" and could even outclass many of the players themselves when it came to reviewing base ball history in all its phases. Of his wife we know nothing, but she must be a young lady of unusual accomplishments and character or he would not have married her. His many friends and acquaintances here extend to them hearty congratulations and wish them a happy journey through life together.

Wakefield Republican: Mrs. Chester Slaughter and daughter, Helen, from Winner, S. D., came to visit relatives for two weeks. Mrs. R. H. Fair and two children returned to Omaha Monday after a ten days' visit with her sister-in-law, Mrs. N. H. Hansen. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Priest and daughter, Blanch, of near Homer, spent Sunday in Wakefield at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Feauto. They made the trip by auto. Sunday, July 15, at the home of her son, Samuel Aughey Heikes, in Dakota county, occurred a most pleasant birthday party in honor of Mrs. Mary J. Heikes' 76th birthday. Four sons, William Albert, Lyman Luther, Samuel Aughey, Charles Elsworth, and four daughters, Mrs. C. W. Long, Mrs. Tillie Slaughter, Mrs. Mary Aistrop, and Mrs. Lettie Harmon were present, one daughter, Mrs. Ida Milliken, now visiting in Pennsylvania, being the only absent child. With children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, the number of direct descendants present was over seventy. A table one hundred feet long was spread with a bounteous picnic dinner which was enjoyed by all as many came from a distance by auto to spend the day. Mrs. Heikes can well be proud of her larger family as they are a credit in any community in which they reside. Mrs. Heikes moved from Juniata county, Penn., to Dakota county, Neb., in the spring of 1870. In 1884 she moved to Wayne county and in 1895 to Wakefield.

You Could Spend Hundreds of Dollars

traveling from factory to factory, talking now with one efficiency expert, arguing again with another. And not gain one whit as much real practical comparative information about the latest modern labor savers, and twentieth century equipment and comfort savers, than an inexpensive trip to the coming Nebraska State Fair, September 3-7, will not you.

A State Fair is the most wonderful market place in all the wide sweep of territory from which it draws its attendance.

Concentrated on a few acres—gathered together under a few roofs—you will find hundreds of new ideas worked out and demonstrated in a practical way.

Some of them worth hundreds of dollars to you.

Draft Made for Uncle Sam's New Army

The drawing for the new army by conscription was held at Washington last Friday, and the names of those who registered for army service were drawn by lot and numbered in the order they will be called. The quota of men to be furnished by Dakota county has been fixed at 47. It is estimated that twice that number will be called before the full quota is secured, owing to the large number of exemptions that will be made.

The honor of being the first man drawn in Dakota county falls to Ernest J. Taylor, assistant in the C. E. Doolittle barber shop, who held the magic number, "258."

Following is an unofficial list of the first 100 names in the order in which they were drawn, as taken from the telegraphic reports. The official list will be sent out by the government some time this week, and contain some changes.

Farm Notes.

Issued by the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

AGENTS SAVE THOUSANDS

One hundred and forty-six county agricultural agents in nine northern and western states, who kept records of the cost and of the losses in 325 hog cholera demonstrations involving 10,527 hogs, report a saving of $92,547.25, according to a summary prepared by the State Relation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. This saving does not include the thousands of hogs that have been saved thru preventive measures suggested by the county agents.

The part Nebraska's county agents are playing in hog cholera prevention is shown by the work done in Dakota county. Last year there were but 22 outbreaks in that county, and not a single case was allowed to spread to adjoining farms. In Seward county, the Farm Bureau owns several sets of instruments for hog cholera vaccination, which are loaned to farmers. Serum and virus are bought at wholesale prices, 35 per cent of the cost of vaccination being saved by this means.

PLENTY OF WHEAT SEED

From data obtained in a recent survey of counties in which damage to winter wheat was least severe last winter, it appears that Nebraska has plenty of good seed for use this fall if it can be properly distributed. Most of the wheat was found in the southeastern and southwestern parts of the state. Some soft wheat was found in southern counties, but this is not satisfactory seed for most parts of the state. Hard winter wheat (Turkey Red) is best adapted to almost all sections of Nebraska.

This survey was just completed by the College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture cooperating with the State Council of Defense. Farmers are urged to hold their wheat for seed rather than put it on the market for flour. A list containing the names of farmers having at least one thousand bushels of wheat has been prepared and will be sent upon application to the Agricultural College.

CHERRY OLIVES

An excellent way to preserve cherries for winter use is to pickle them. The following recipe for putting them up in this way is supplied by home economics specialists of the University Agricultural Extension Service:

2 pint water, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cup vinegar, 1 quart cherries.

Prepare the brine and add vinegar. Then put the cherries in the liquor and seal jar.

PICKLES AND RELISHES

Having set machinery in motion to teach Nebraskans the most up-to-date methods of canning, home economics experts in the College of Agricultural Extension Service are making plans to "pickle the state." Full instructions for preserving garden and orchard products by pickling them are contained in Canning Circular No. 3, just issued by the Extension Service, University Farm, Lincoln. This bulletin will be sent free upon application.

NORTHERN-GROWN SEED POTATOES

Reports from county agricultural agents in Nebraska bear out results of the Nebraska Experiment Station showing that northern-grown seed potatoes usually give more satisfactory yields than home-grown seed potatoes. In many counties, vines of potatoes from home-grown seed suffer very quickly from heat, while those grown from northern seed withstand heat much better. It is likely that striking differences will also be noted in the yields at digging time.

BUYING AN ELECTRIC FAN

In purchasing an electric fan for household use, one should choose a slow-speed, 6-bladed, 12-inch fan rather than a high-speed, 4-bladed, 8-inch fan. According to the electrical engineering department of the State University, the slow-speed fan described above will deliver the same volume of air with fewer revolutions and less noise. Hence, such a fan is the better for use in the home.

APPLE-CHERRY JELLY

A delicious jelly may be made from cherries and apples that are too green for other use. The apples are cut into small pieces, covered with water, and boiled thoroughly. Three parts of apple juice to one part of cherry juice, plus an equal volume of sugar is recommended by the Home Economics Department of the University of Nebraska.

Spend Your Vacation at the Nebraska State Fair

Get away from the "drag" of the year's hard work and "Rest Up." Maybe the wife would like a "vacation," too, and the children—for they have worked as hard as you.

When you all get back to the harness you will not only feel like turning the world upside down, but you will find that you have gained many new ideas, met many old time friends, made some new ones—and discovered new ways of shortening the day's work and increasing the day's output.
